

Learning Assistant Job Description

Learning Assistant Mission

ARC Learning Assistants provide discipline-specific academic support to NYU Shanghai students in and out of the classroom. LAs work closely with faculty and ARC staff to support student success and promote independent and active learning.

What is a Learning Assistant

- A Learning Assistant attends Lectures and Labs/Recitations to refresh knowledge of important concepts, supports NYUSH students in mastery of course material, and meets regularly with assigned instructor as part of a feedback loop meant to support student success.
- This position is for one semester, renewable, lasting from Sunday, September 2, 2018 - Friday, December 21, 2018.
- Learning Assistants earn 35 RMB per hour, and work a maximum 8 hours/week or 40 hours/month.

Specific Duties

- Attend Lecture and Lab/Recitation, as appropriate.
- Support students during class as they work on individual and group assignments.
- Be available to provide individual or small-group tutoring for students in your assigned Lab/Recitation section.
- Be available for weekly meetings with instructor.
- Attend an 8-hour training on Sunday, September 2, 2018.
- Attend bi-weekly 60-minute meetings with supervisor throughout the semester.
- Provide prompt (i.e., within 24 hours) email replies to supervisor(s), instructors, and throughout the program duration.

Eligibility

- Enrolled at NYUSH as an undergraduate student for the upcoming semester
- Received a A- or better in the course(s) that you intend to support
- Completed at least 30 credit hours at NYUSH with a minimum subject-area and overall GPA 3.0 by the end of semester preceding the start of the job
- Have excellent interpersonal, communication, and problem-solving skills
