

FACULTY LANGUAGE LECTURER
French, German, Italian, and Spanish
NYU Shanghai

NYU Shanghai invites applications for part-time Lecturer positions to teach French, German, Italian, and Spanish to academically outstanding students from around the world. Lecturers teach two 4-credit classes per semester. One Elementary and one Intermediate section, and may participate in proficiency or placement testing, and other program activities.

NYU Shanghai is looking for creative individuals who are flexible, outgoing, open to new environments, and respectful of diverse backgrounds and learning styles. Applicants should have at least a Master's Degree. Applicants should also have a minimum of 3 years teaching experience in higher education. Ideal candidates will have experience working with students from diverse cultural and language backgrounds, and will have specialized experience teaching content-based speaking and listening.

In addition to course development and teaching, Lecturers participate in regular faculty development workshops throughout the academic year, contribute to the program and university community through service, continue ongoing research or practice in their academic or creative fields, and participate actively in the intellectual life of NYU Shanghai. Appointments are for three years effective August 1, 2017; contracts are renewable.

Review of applications will begin immediately for Fall 2017 appointments and continue until positions are filled.

Required application materials:

- A cover letter that explains your interest in teaching university-level languages in Shanghai, specific qualities you will bring to the program, and your teaching philosophy;
- A current CV;
- A one-page sample course description including the textbook and other teaching materials that you would assign.
- Three reference contacts (you may also include reference letters).

Please visit our website at <http://shanghai.nyu.edu/about/work/faculty-positions> for instructions and other information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail maria.montoya@nyu.edu.

About NYU Shanghai:

NYU Shanghai is the newest degree-granting campus within New York University's global network. It is the first higher education joint venture in China authorized to grant degrees that are accredited in the U.S. as well as in China. All teaching is conducted in English. A research university with liberal arts and science at its core, it resides in one of the world's great cities with a vibrant intellectual community. NYU Shanghai recruits scholars of the highest caliber who are committed to NYU's global vision of transformative teaching and innovative research and who embody the global society in which we live.

NYU's global network includes degree-granting campuses in New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi, complemented by eleven additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

NYU Shanghai is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. We strongly encourage applications from individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU Shanghai affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer