NYU Shanghai is offering a Fellowship in its program of Interactive Media Arts (https://shanghai.nyu.edu/academics/majors/interactive-media), an undergraduate liberal arts program in the practice and theory of interactive media. IMA is one of the inaugural majors at NYU’s Shanghai campus, with 300 enrollments a term and 80 declared majors.

IMA combines practice-based work with critical scholarship in order to explore the social and cultural possibilities of emerging media. Our studio curriculum combines the development of software, the manipulation of digital media, the fabrication of material objects, and the construction of virtual and physical spaces. Our seminars relate to theoretical study of the history, philosophy, and politics of new media.

The Fellowship is for one year with the potential for renewal into a second year. Compensation and terms of employment are comparable to U.S. institutions, and include faculty-housing subsidies.

Responsibilities
The Resident Arts Fellow candidate will have teaching opportunities in both the elective and core curriculum. They will also be encouraged, through the development of their own work, to help build the research platform of the IMA program. Enthusiastic dedication to this rapidly evolving program is essential.

The core classes required of IMA majors are our foundation courses (Interaction Lab http://ima.nyu.sh/interaction-lab/ and Communications Lab http://ima.nyu.sh/communications-lab/), a research-based seminar, and our Senior Capstone Studio.

IMA’s student population is drawn from dozens of countries, and especially from China. Teaching is all conducted in English.

Qualifications
We seek candidates, with a terminal degree in Media Studies or a related field, whose work intersects with the curriculum and research interests of IMA. This includes: mobile and ubiquitous computing, physical computing, wearable technology, data mining and visualization, social media, virtual and mixed reality, gaming, robotics and AI, cryptocurrency etc.

Application Instructions
Candidates should submit a letter of application, illustrative publications or documentation of public work, a curriculum vitae, and the names of two referees who have agreed to submit reference letters upon request.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. For best consideration, materials should be submitted by no later than February 1, 2017. Please visit our website at http://shanghai.nyu.edu/about/work/fellowships for instructions and other information on how to apply. Additional information about the position can be obtained through writing to ima@nyu.edu.

About NYU Shanghai:
NYU Shanghai is the newest degree-granting campus within New York University’s global network. It is the first higher education joint venture in China authorized to grant degrees that are accredited in the U.S. as well as in China. All teaching is conducted in English. A research university with liberal arts and science at its core, it resides in one of the world’s great cities with a vibrant intellectual community. NYU Shanghai recruits scholars of the highest caliber.
who are committed to NYU’s global vision of transformative teaching and innovative research and who embody the global society in which we live.

NYU’s global network includes degree-granting campuses in New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi, complemented by eleven additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

NYU Shanghai is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. We strongly encourage applications from individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU Shanghai affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer