NYU Shanghai seeks to hire a Visiting Professor or Visiting Associate Professor to join its program in Interactive Media Arts (IMA, http://ima.nyu.sh/), an undergraduate liberal arts program in the practice and theory of interactive media. IMA is one of the inaugural majors at NYU’s Shanghai campus, with 300 enrollments a term and 80 declared majors. Positions are for 1 semester or 1 year, with the possibility of renewal.

IMA combines practice-based work with critical scholarship in order to explore the social and cultural possibilities of emerging media. Our studio curriculum combines the development of software, the manipulation of digital media, the fabrication of material objects, and the construction of virtual and physical spaces. Our seminars relate to theoretical study of the history, philosophy, and politics of new media.

Compensation and terms of employment are comparable to U.S. institutions, and include faculty housing or subsidies, and educational subsidies for children.

Responsibilities
The Visiting Professor or Visiting Associate Professor will teach two courses per semester, usually one core and one elective, which can be a production class or seminar. In addition, they will advise students, and participate in departmental and school-wide committees. On-going professional work is encouraged. Teaching experience, a commitment to undergraduate education, and enthusiastic dedication to this rapidly evolving program are essential.

The core classes required of IMA majors are our foundation courses (Interaction Lab http://ima.nyu.sh/interaction-lab/ and Communications Lab http://ima.nyu.sh/communications-lab/), a research-based seminar, and our Senior Capstone Studio.

IMA’s student population is drawn from dozens of countries, and especially from China. Strong consideration will be given to faculty who have worked outside the United States, or in institutions with international student populations.

Qualifications
Candidates should have a body of published work in a discipline related to the theory and practice of digital creation, or significant creative experience and a body of publicly shown work in related fields, and three or more years of undergraduate teaching experience.

The review of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled. For full consideration, materials should be submitted no later than January 1, 2017. Applications must include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, illustrative publications or documentation of public work, and the names and email addresses of three referees who have agreed to submit reference letters upon request. Please visit our website at http://shanghai.nyu.edu/en/about/work-here/open-positions-faculty for instructions and other information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail ag158@nyu.edu.

About NYU Shanghai:
NYU Shanghai is the newest degree-granting campus within New York University’s global network. It is the first higher education joint venture in China authorized to grant degrees that are accredited in the U.S. as well as in China. All teaching is conducted in English. A research university with liberal arts and science at its core, it resides in one of the world's great cities with a vibrant intellectual community. NYU Shanghai recruits scholars of the highest caliber.
who are committed to NYU's global vision of transformative teaching and innovative research and who embody the global society in which we live.

NYU’s global network includes degree-granting campuses in New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi, complemented by eleven additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

NYU Shanghai is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. We strongly eourage applications from individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU Shanghai affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer