Qualifications:

Required Education

Ph.D. in psychology or a related field (legal and investigative topics are a special merit but not an absolute requirement).

Required Experience

Experience with hands-on statistical analyses and writing of research articles is required. Ability to program data collection software is a plus.

Required Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Proficient in both written and spoken English; Mandarin fluency is a plus but not required.

Good interpersonal and communication skills to work in an international environment;

Good time management skills;

Independent and self-motivated.

Interested applicants should send a C.V., 2 academic letters of reference and a cover letter addressing their research interests to pekka.santtila@nyu.edu

About NYU Shanghai:

NYU Shanghai is the newest degree-granting campus within New York University's global network. It is the first higher education joint venture in China authorized to grant degrees that are accredited in the U.S. as well as in China. All teaching is conducted in English. A research university with liberal arts and science at its core, it resides in one of the world's great cities with a vibrant intellectual community. NYU Shanghai recruits scholars of the highest caliber who are committed to NYU's global vision of transformative teaching and innovative research and who embody the global society in which we live.

NYU's global network includes degree-granting campuses in New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi, complemented by eleven additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

NYU Shanghai is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. We strongly encourage applications from individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU Shanghai affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.
