Postdoctoral Fellow of Social Science

The Center for Applied Social and Economic Research (CASER) at NYU Shanghai is now seeking a Postdoctoral Fellow to work on research projects based on the urban household panel data collected in China. Candidates should have an excellent academic background (PhD degree) in quantitative social science or closely related fields, including demonstrated expertise in advanced techniques of data management/archiving and statistical data analysis for longitudinal, multilevel and cross-nationally comparative data. Experience in working with China's population census and other large-scale panel survey data sets is a plus. Prior publications in peer-reviewed journals in English will be particularly welcome.

Salary is internationally competitive and commensurate with experience. The position is available from Sept 1, 2023 for an initial appointment of two years, renewable subject to mutual agreement. The appointment start date for non-Chinese applicants depends on the progress of the work permit application. The successful candidate is expected to become an active member in Center's research team, led by the Center director (Prof. Xiaogang Wu), to conduct quantitative and comparative analyses of urban household panel survey data (Hong Kong Panel Study of Social Dynamics [HKPSSD] and Shanghai Urban Neighborhood Survey [SUNS]) on relevant themes, and published articles in both Chinese and English peer reviewed journals, and to pursue her/his own professional development in these roles. The candidate may be invited to teach recitation sessions at NYU Shanghai for up to 50% appointment time.

To apply, please follow this link https://apply.interfolio.com/124288. Applicants should submit a cover letter that describes their relevant training and career goals, C.V., research statement, and two representative publications or writing samples. Additionally, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three references. Each reference will be contacted to upload a reference letter through Interfolio. We will begin reviewing applications on May 1st until the positions are filled. If you have any questions on the application process, please email the NYU Shanghai NY Office of Faculty Recruitment at shanghai.faculty.recruitment@nyu.edu. Further information on the advertised position and the Center may be obtained by contacting Professor Xiaogang Wu (xw29@nyu.edu) directly.

About NYU Shanghai:

NYU Shanghai is the third degree-granting campus within New York University's global network. It is the first higher education joint venture in China authorized to grant degrees that are accredited in the U.S. as well as in China. All teaching is conducted in English. A research university with liberal arts and science at its core, NYU Shanghai resides in one of the world's great cities with a vibrant intellectual community. NYU Shanghai recruits scholars of the highest caliber who are committed to NYU's global vision of transformative teaching and innovative research and who embody the global society in which we live.

NYU's global network includes degree-granting campuses in New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi, complemented by fourteen additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr.

NYU Shanghai is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity, and social inclusion. We   strongly encourage applications from under-represented individuals in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU Shanghai affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.